

Stephanie P. Miller
Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Military Personnel Policy
Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel Policy

Ms. Stephanie Miller oversees the full spectrum of human resource policies for over two million military personnel serving in the Department of Defense. As the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Military Personnel Policy, a component of the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness, her responsibilities include accessions, compensation, development, assignments, separations, awards and decorations. She is directly responsible for policies and programs to sustain the all-volunteer force.

Ms. Miller has served in a variety of executive positions throughout the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel Policy. Ms. Miller also serves as the Senior Advisor for all Department of Defense general and flag officer matters.

During her tenure, Ms. Miller has led the Department through major initiatives to modernize military recruiting policies and programs, advertising and marketing programs, testing batteries, qualification standards, accession processing, 6,000 recruiting stations, and 67 Military Entrance Processing Stations across the United States and points overseas.

Ms. Miller previously served as a Special Assistant to both Secretary of Defense Chuck Hagel and Ashton Carter where she was responsible for a broad spectrum of programs to include Military and Civilian Personnel Policy, Military Force Readiness, Defense Health Affairs, Reserve Affairs, Defense Sexual Assault Prevention and Response, and interagency cooperation with Veterans Affairs. Her career includes leadership positions within the Department of the Navy and as a Defense Legislative Fellow.

Ms. Miller graduated from Villanova University with a degree in English Literature and Business Administration, and received her commission from the Navy ROTC program, subsequently serving as a Surface Warfare Officer in support of Operations Iraqi and Enduring Freedom. She received her graduate degree in Human Resources Development and Adult Education from The George Washington University. Ms. Miller's contributions to the Department were recognized with the Department of Defense Medal for Distinguished Civilian Service in 2015 and with the Presidential Rank Award for Meritorious Executive Service in 2021.

Ms. Miller is married to Colby Miller of Williamsburg, VA and has three children; Anne Marie, Charlotte, and Paul David.
